RE: Support for the LPTV and Translator Preservation Act of 2014

Dear Representative Barton,

First, the Advanced Television Broadcasting Alliance would like to thank Congressman Barton and his staff for their diligent support for the LPTV and Translator Industry.

We are writing to you to express our support for the LPTV and Translator Preservation Act of 2014. Although we believe as an industry the bill falls short of full protection of the LPTV and Translator industry, we understand that the bill is a significant step in the process to inform the FCC and the Congress that LPTV and Translators are important to the communications infrastructure of our country. Furthermore, we look forward to the FCC understanding LPTV and Translators are secondary only to full power television services and not secondary to other wireless services.

As a result, our opinion on this matter that the LPTV and Translator Preservation Act should move forward.

Thank you again for your time and interest.

Sincerely,

Louis Libin, ATBA Executive Director

The Advanced Television Broadcasting Alliance is a nonprofit industry organization comprised of low power television broadcasters, translators, full power television broadcasters and allied industry organizations and companies.
